

Ioannis Iglezakis is a Professor of Law & Informatics at the Faculty of Law in the Aristotle University in Thessaloniki (Greece) and Attorney-at-law at the Thessaloniki Bar Association. He is currently serving as Head of the Department of History, Philosophy and Sociology of Law (elected for the academic year 2016-2017) and a Member of the Office of the Dean of the School of Law of Thessaloniki.

Prof. Iglezakis received his Ph.D. from the University of Thessaloniki in 1999 (summa cum laude) with a dissertation on Legal Expert Systems, and he holds Master's degrees from the University of Thessaloniki (1992) and the University of Hannover, Germany (1993). In the academic year 2003-2004, he conducted postdoctoral research in data protection law in the University of Thessaloniki. He was a research assistant in the Faculty of Law at the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki (2002–2003) and Visiting Lecturer (2003–2009). In 2009, he was elected Assistant Professor, receiving his tenure in 2014. One year later (in 2015) he was elected Associate Professor and in 2020 he was elected as Full Professor. He is widely published in Greece and has authored many studies in international legal reviews.

His research interests include I.T. law, legal informatics, media law, economic and EU law. He is a member of the editorial team of Greek legal journals. He has published ten (10) books and over 150 articles, in Greek, German and English, and has also edited several books published in English (Legal and Socioeconomic Aspects of Intrusion, IGI (2009); E-Publishing and Digital Libraries: Legal and Organizational Issues, IGI (2010); Values and Freedoms in Modern Information Law & Ethics. Proceedings of the 4th International Conference on Information Law and Ethics (2011); Proceedings of the 6th International Conference on Information Law and Ethics (2015); Cyberlaw in Greece, Kluwer Law International (2015); Legal Regulation of Cyber Attacks, Kluwer Law International, (2016); Digital Tools for Computer Production and distribution, IGI Publishing (2016).

He has organized international conferences (ICIL, Thessaloniki 2011, <https://icil.gr/2011/>, Thessaloniki 2014, <https://icil.gr/2014/>) and a Conference in Greece, Thessaloniki 2013, http://diafaneia.ee.auth.gr/sites/default/files/Programma_Synedrio_Igglezakis.pdf), and has participated in several Greek and International Conferences.

He has worked in several EU-funded projects related to Information, e-commerce, intellectual property, data protection, consumer protection and comparative law, including hands-on experience in conducting legal gap analysis and/or supporting the transposition of EU directives into national legislation in the EU pre-accession context, as well as in the framework of EU-internal support projects. He was a partner in the EU-funded project "Greek Cybercrime Center" (<http://www.cybercc.gr/>), which is a national project with the task to improve research and education in the field of cybercrime (2013-2015). He was a consultant (2015-2017) in the EU-project "Monitoring and Detecting OnLine Hate Speech (Mandola)" <http://mandola-project.eu/>). He served as an Expert of the Ethical Advisory Board in the REVEAL project (<https://revealproject.eu/>) and a Member in the Advisory Board of Safer Internet (<http://www.saferinternet.gr/>), as well as advisor in other international projects.
